Description

Keeping your food warm in a stylish display case with a functional design is possible with Ristoattrezzature. Serve only fragrant bakery products by purchasing the hot counter display case with straight glass panes on our website. You will have a quality, high-performance product, ideal for offering only the best to your customers and always at the right temperature. The heated counter display case is essential in delicatessens, rotisseries and bars and allows you to maintain the quality of your preparations. Design and operation The Ristoattrezzature heated counter display case measures 55.4x36.1x31.1h cm and has an elegant and essential design thanks to its straight glass panes. Completely transparent, the display case allows a complete view of the food, enabling an inviting presentation to customers. Made of stainless steel and glass, it ensures robustness and excellent performance and is ideal for keeping sandwiches, pizzas, fried and cooked food warm. Inside, it is equipped with 1 fixed, non-adjustable chrome grill and 1 intermediate grill, while use is permitted through 1 hinged door on the front side and 1 hinged door on the user side. The maximum capacity of this display is 35 litres while the operating temperature is adjustable between +30 and +90 °C. The gradation can be set by means of a knob at the rear together with the ON/OFF switch. The power supply is electric with an output of 0.80 kW. Cleaning and maintenance The hot display case must be carefully cleaned daily. Brioche and pizzas constantly leave behind crumbs that can burn and cause a bad smell. To facilitate these operations, the cabinet is equipped with a crumb tray that can be easily removed and sanitised. Equally removable are the support grids and the glass shelf. To clean these surfaces, do not use corrosive detergents that scratch the steel surface; a damp cloth and a mild degreasing detergent is sufficient. Why it's the right product for you Professional, high quality displays, specially designed to ensure maximum hygiene and cleanliness, are much more reassuring for customers. Seeing a tidy counter and the food well protected from external agents gives confidence and professionalism. Enjoying croissants or pizzettas always at the right temperature, without having to reheat them in a microwave, allows you to offer a more fragrant product. The hot counter displaycase is also a functional display module that, unlike other heating systems, gives uniform heat. You will thus be able to keep the temperature of your dishes constant at all times. This counter-top model also gives you the possibility to place it quietly on the counter, it is practical and convenient. Move it easily according to your needs, the support feet offer great stability. Its versatility allows it to accommodate a variety of dishes: from hot deli dishes to pizzas and fast food sandwiches. Ideal for use in any catering context. Find out more in the data sheet and contact us if you need further information.
