Rice cooker oven gas 11.6 kW

Description

The rice cooker oven was created to offer an automatic cooking system capable of reproducing the traditional Japanese recipe. It pre-cooks, cooks and completes the cooking process guaranteeing optimal preparation of sushi rice. Using it is simple, the sliding opening system greatly facilitates the insertion and extraction of the pan, the display and graphics make it a simple and intuitive tool, ideal for all sushi professionals. The oven incorporates the innovative Extra Wide Open system of the door for pan insertion. The oven allows optimal cooking by simply selecting the rice quality and pressing the start button. The oven includes a rice rest function, which is automatically activated 15 minutes before the end of cooking. An audible signal alerts the operator at the end of the cycle. The ovens can be stacked, forming a two- or three-oven column as required. This versatility gives the possibility to freely develop the equipment according to the needs of the room.
